handbid

Ticketing & Registration

Automate your check-in process and run a hassle-free event

Handbid uses ticketing and registration to streamline guest check-in

- Sell tickets
- Register guests
- Capture payment info

When guests arrive, they've already got a paddle and a credit card on file

Using Handbid, you can front-load all guest registration information so there's almost nothing else to do after a guest arrives. All you have to do is hand them a glass of champagne – and point them to the auction area!

Ticketing and registration features put your entire check-in process on autopilot. From the moment guests show up, they can bid on items and give with total ease.

Built-in ticketing and registration mean less work for you

- Consolidate ticket sales with other auction activities
- Capture credit card info before your guests arrive
- Make check-in a breeze using automatic credit card swipes
- Assign custom paddle numbers at the door or let the guest keep the paddle they already have
- Cut your workload in half by using one platform for ticketing and auctions
- Store guests' payment info so it's available for future events
- Allow ticket purchasers to manage their own guest list, from the web or from the Apps

Get all the boring stuff done before the big day

Self-service registration ensures you have all the guest info you need before your event begins.

When guests show up, there's virtually nothing for them to do! You've already got their information and payment info. After you scan their tickets, they can grab a physical paddle and start mingling.

The best part for you? Ticketing and guest registration is integrated with your auction activities, minimizing your admin workload.