Struggling with inefficient sales processes?

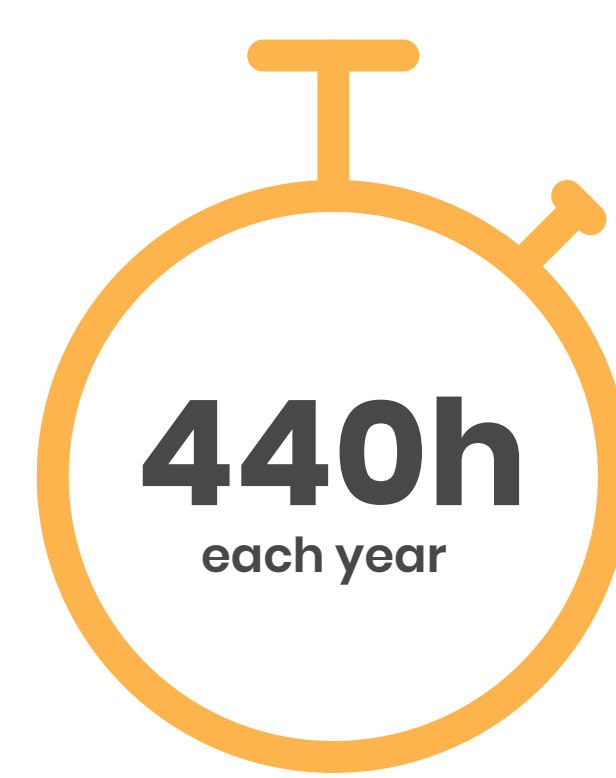

We help you maximize productivity and keep your reps in control of their deal timeline. Greater process efficiency equals reduced time to closing deals.

79% of sales executives say a leading driver of hitting new targets is improving the productivity of existing sales reps.

Difficult to customize your sales collateral at scale?

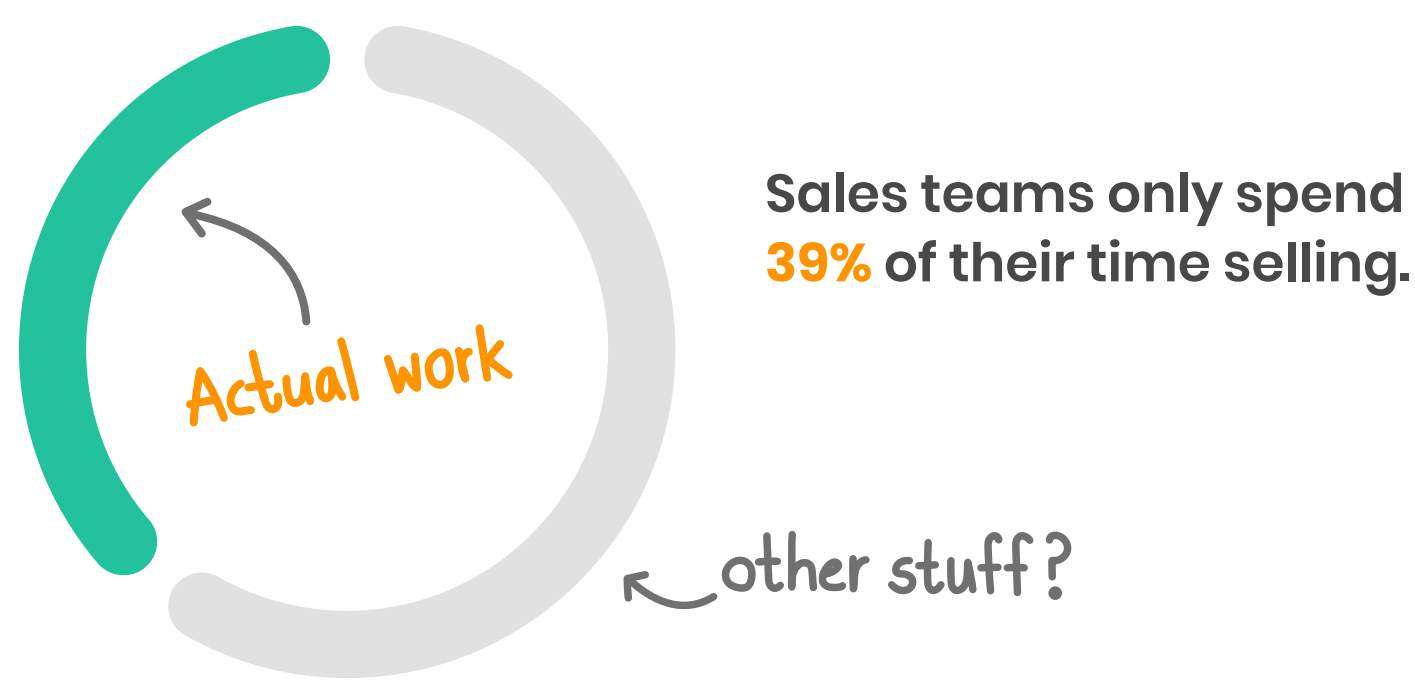

Maximize the impact of marketing-created content by ensuring reps locate and use what's current. We empower your team with personalization tools so they can adapt the sales process from deal to deal.

Sales reps spend an average of 440 hours each year trying to find the right content to share with their prospects and customers.

Are your sellers slowed down by manual tasks?

Drive revenue and help your sales team close deals faster by reallocating time. With a Digital Sales Room, sales reps on your team will spend less time on administrative work and more time on actually selling.

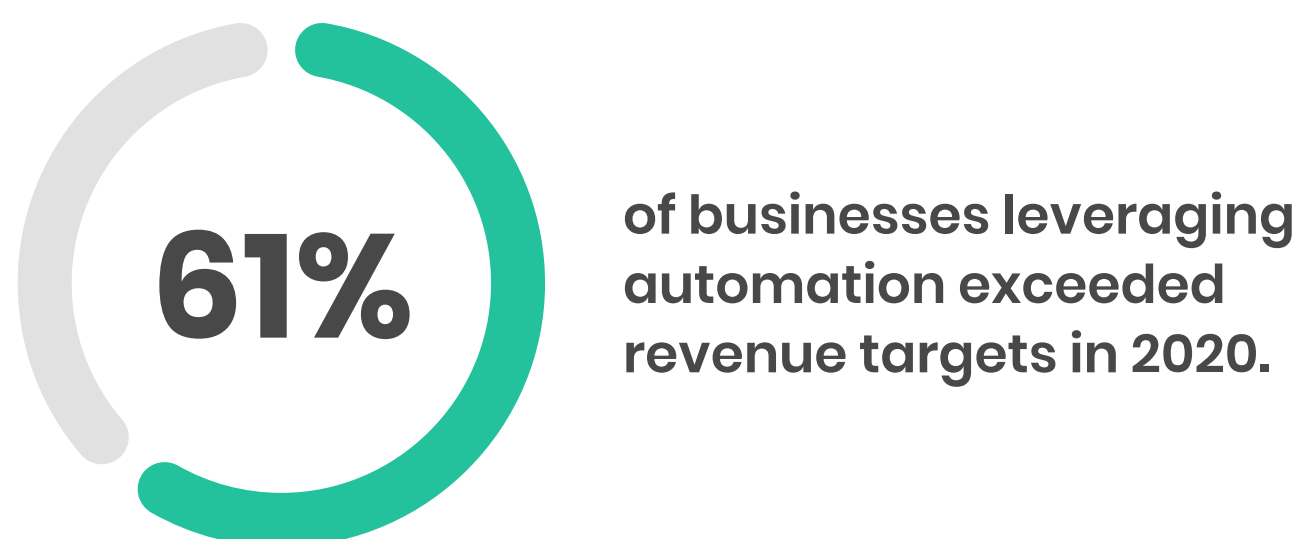

Got too many tools in your sales tech stack?

Sales teams are not known for 100% compliance when adding or updating contact data in the CRM. Ensure data integrity by automatically merging data between your CRM, sales tools, and sales collateral.

91% of data in CRM systems is predicted to be incomplete, stale, or duplicated each year.

Want to avoid costly human errors?

Automate tedious quoting processes to reduce pricing errors; build automated reminders, tasks, and workflows to link the steps of your sales process and ensure reps will keep the deal moving.

Ready to stand out from your competition?

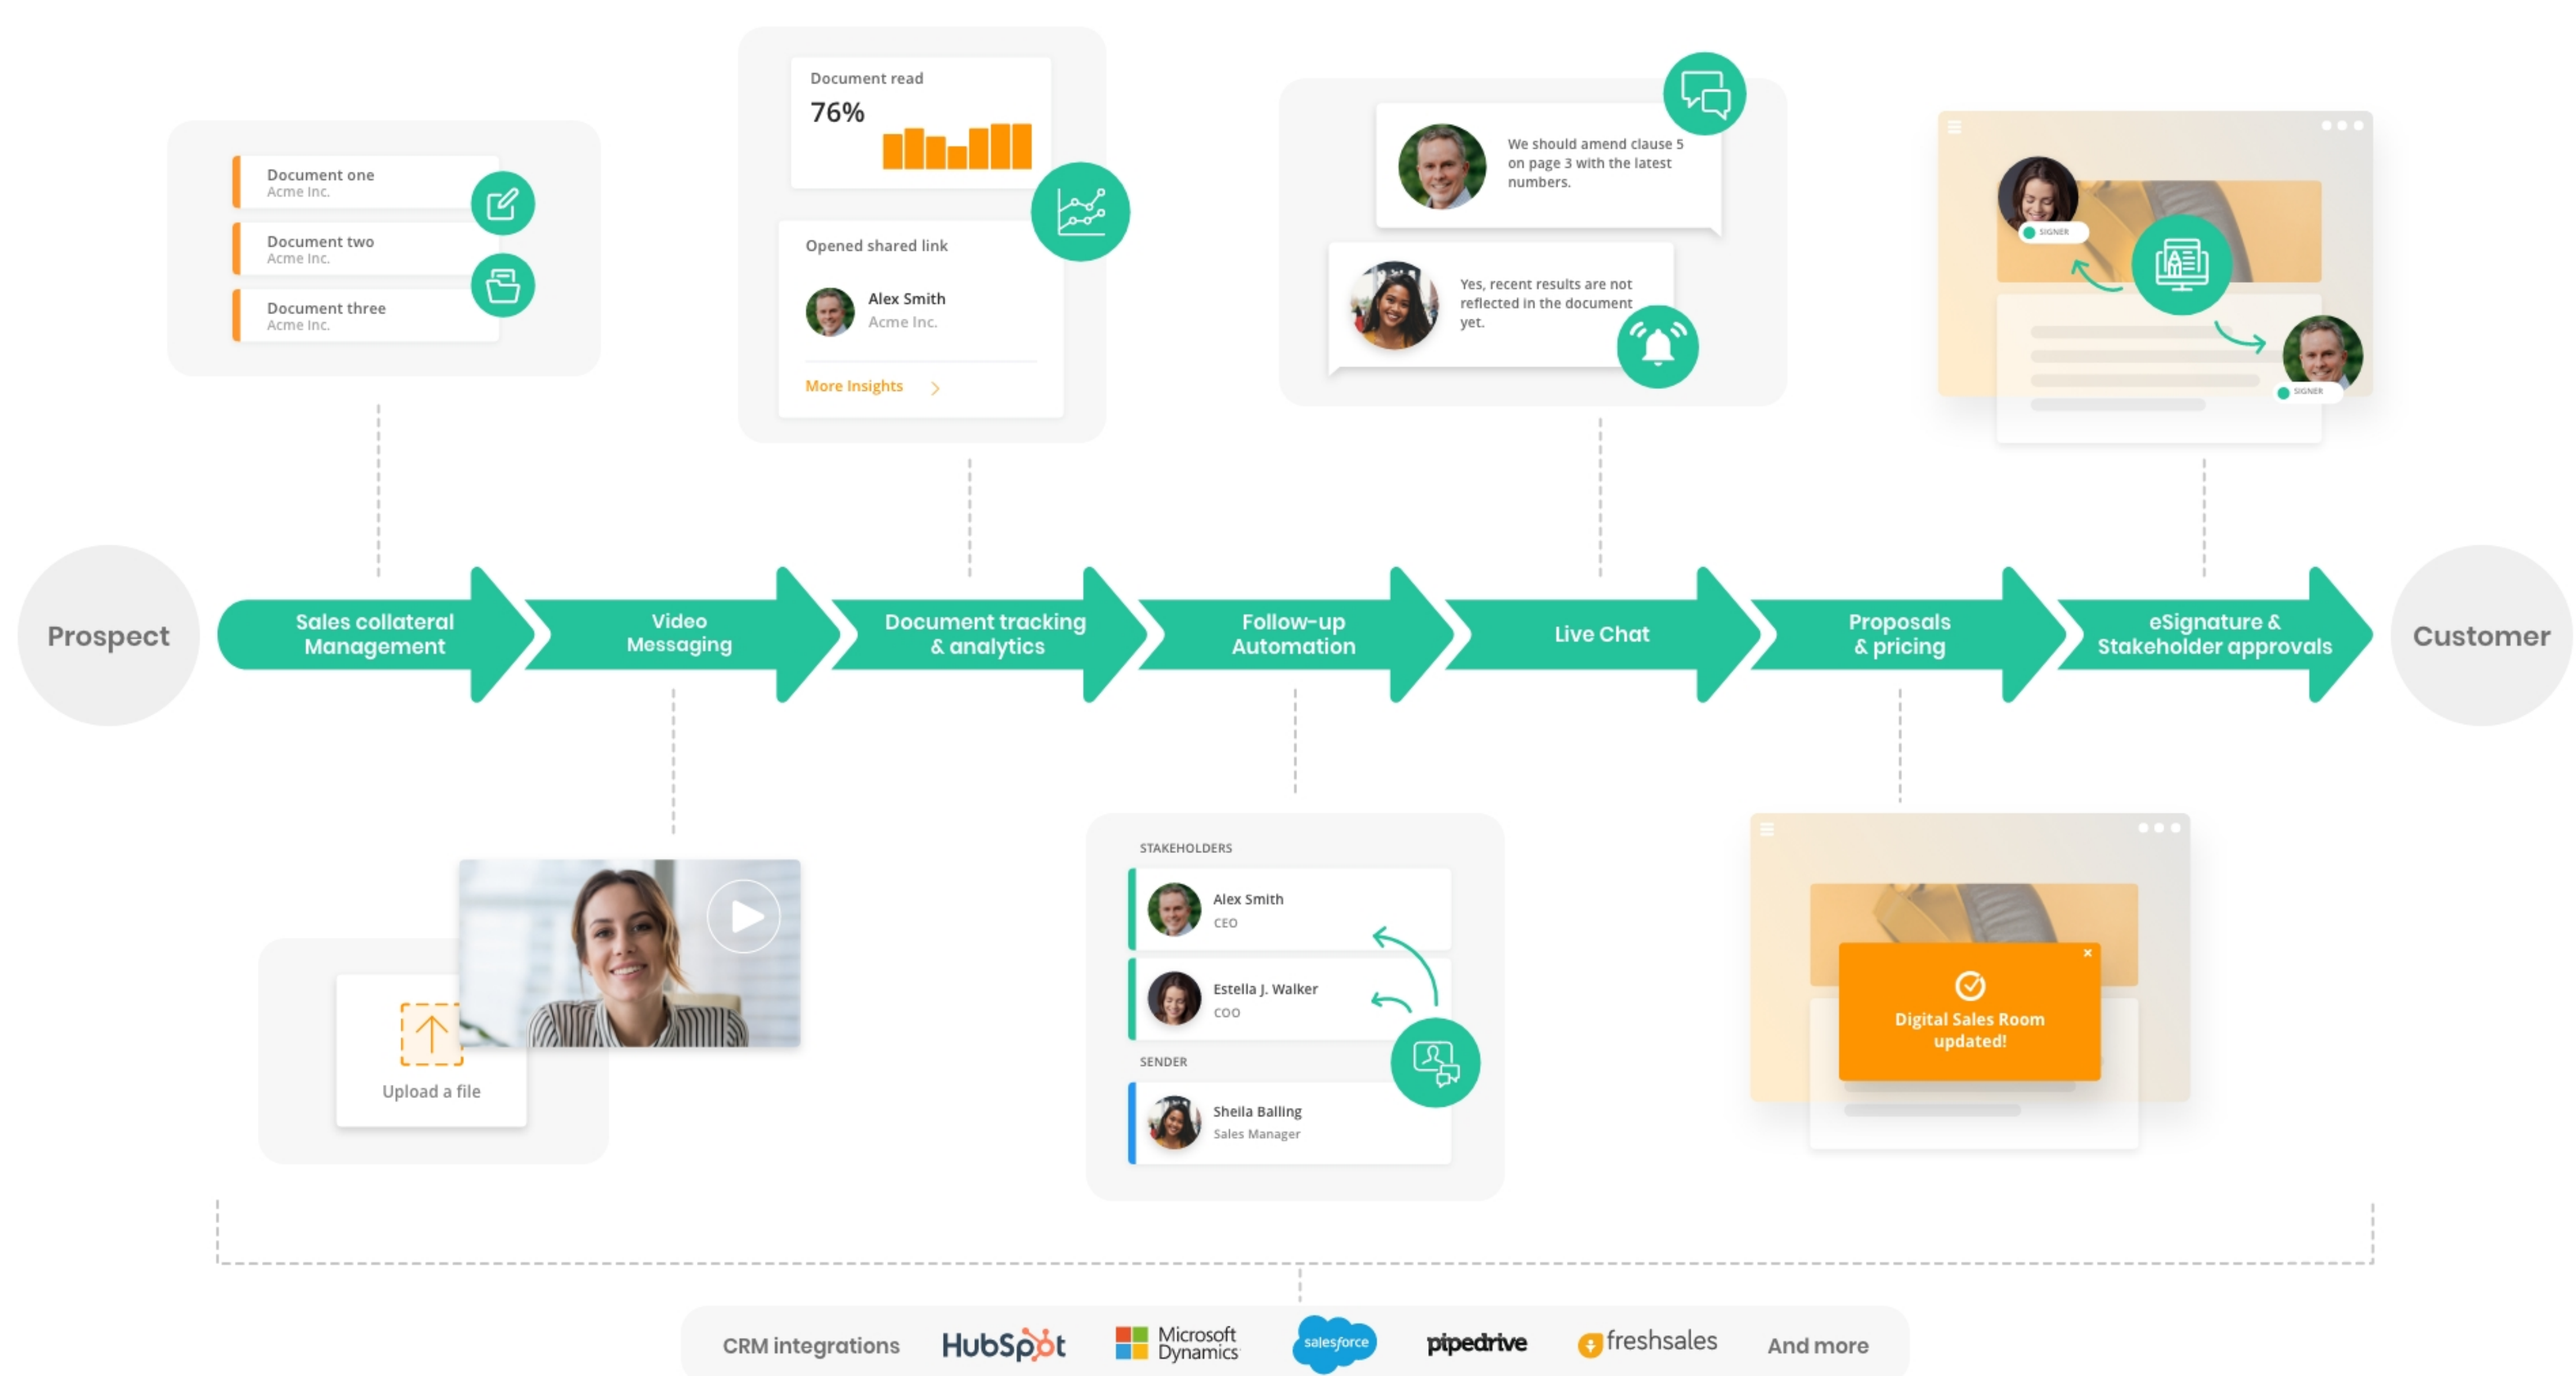

Help your sales team provide the best buying experience by using GetAccept's digital sales room to increase relevance, organization, and personalization with all stakeholders, throughout the entire sales process.
